What can you object about?

For a full application related to a conservation area you can object to siting, appearance, how it would affect the character of the area - includes proximity to residential dwellings, schools, university buildings, residential care homes, nurseries and so on. Ecological harm (e.g. to bees and trees) and health & safety (lack of risk assessment etc) are material planning considerations so can be included as well.

Factors concerning siting may involve:

- height of the site in relation to surrounding land
- topography of the site and vegetation
- openness and visibility of the site
- designated areas
- the site in relation to existing masts
- structures or buildings
- proximity to residential property, schools, colleges, universities, care homes
- significant detrimental impact on the historical setting of a listed building

With regard to appearance this can include details such as:

- materials
- colour
- design
- dimensions
- overall shape
- solid or open framework
- could also mention disquieting appearance of masts affecting people's enjoyment of the neighbourhood, and possibly leading to anxiety and mental health issues

There are alternatives, fibre to the home is safe, more secure, performs faster and more reliably, it is also less amenable to all pervasive bulk data collection.

Objection points specific to this application

Barely 200m from Joseph Hood Primary School, Melbury College Whatley Campus (school for children with autism), and The Avenue Children's Centre (for pre-school children and pregnant women). The applicants supplementary information fails to mention these.

Adjacent to Merton Park Baptist Church bus-stop (routes 164 and 655).

On the border of Cannon Hill local character area - by reason of its siting, appearance, height and scale would be visually intrusive and inappropriately conspicuous.

Obtrusive in the panoramic view from Cannon Hill Common.

Loss of greespace, the locally-known Bird Cherry Field.
